NIMHD Transdisciplinary Collaborative Centers for Health Disparities Research Focused on Precision Medicine (U54)

FOA#: RFA-MD-15-013

NIMHD Transdisciplinary Collaborative Centers (TCCs) for health disparities research comprise regional coalitions of research institutions and consortium partners focused on priority research areas in minority health and health disparities. The TCC program's overarching goal is to develop and disseminate effective interventions that can be implemented in real-world settings. TCC projects are expected to be regional in scope, population based, and placed in the context of regional or national efforts to promote health equity. TCCs supported through this initiative are expected to focus on at least one priority research area, each combining expertise in precision medicine, population health disparities, and the science of translation, implementation and dissemination to address one or more documented health disparities.

Priority Research Areas

1. Data Integration
2. Population differences in pharmaceutical therapy outcomes
3. Translating pharmacogenomic discoveries to health disparity populations
4. Implementation research.
